

HOOVER PLANS TO REORGANIZE "DRY" ENFORCEMENT

Entire Federal Enforcement Machinery to Be Revamped by President

AROUSED BY REPORT

Commission Says Criminal Law Machine of Nation Has Broken Down

By William S. Neal
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Hoover Administration today was rushing its plans for a drastic reorganization of the entire Federal "dry" enforcement machinery as oratorical skirmishes continued along the congressional prohibition front.

Aroused by the Law Enforcement Commission's declaration that the criminal law machine of the nation has broken down and stung by criticisms of both "wets" and "drys," the Treasury and Justice Departments and congressional leaders joined hands to speed the President's program.

Preparatory to submitting recommendations for definite legislation to Congress on Monday, the commission headed by George Wickersham, ex-Attorney General, issued a statement in which it forecast demands which are expected to make law enforcement the dominant question in Congress for months.

The Commission, in a sweeping statement, said:

"A preliminary examination by the Commission demonstrated unquestionably that the criminal law enforcement machinery of the country is entirely inadequate; that prohibition, automobile theft, white slave traffic, immigration, and other criminal laws of the Federal Government have overtaxed the capacity and effectiveness of the national machinery for enforcement."

The Commission placed organization of Federal courts as the major problem in the entire question of criminal law administration.

"One of the important factors in emphasizing the need of reform is the cost of crime to the people of the United States," said the Commission, announcing it is planning to present detailed figures to the nation.

Although the Commission was originally proposed by Sen. Glass (D) of Virginia to investigate the prohibition question, it announced it is covering a vastly broader field.

On the heels of the report it became known that Governmental Departments are prepared to take the first steps in reorganization. These are:

Preparation of bill by Treasury and Justice Departments, transferring dry agents to Justice Department and retention of alcohol permit division in Treasury. The bill is to be ready within a week.

Announcement of House judiciary committee that it is prepared to consider reorganization of border patrol to unify agencies. Treasury expected to submit recommendations after transfer bill is completed.

FUNERAL HERE MONDAY

Funeral service will be held on Monday for the late Mrs. Mary E. White, widow of Martin V. B. White, who died Thursday in her 89th year. The service will take place from the home of Robert Patterson, a nephew of the deceased, 634 Bath street, at two p. m. Burial will be made in Bristol Cemetery, and friends may call Sunday evening.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

By "The Stroller"

At a meeting of the Mill Street Business Men's Association Monday night the question of keeping the highways in the principal shopping district cleaner, came up for consideration.

"If some of the business men would take up the dirt after sweeping it from their sidewalks, instead of leaving it on the highway, we would have a cleaner street," one of the members is quoted as saying.

That statement is a true one and if the habit was adopted in all sections of the borough, the center town would look much neater and present a far more attractive appearance than it does.

Bristol for the past several years has had weekly collection of ashes and rubbish. So that those who sweep their sidewalks and then take up the dirt will not have to pay to have it hauled away at some later day, but merely place it in a receptacle for the ash collector.

Make this a town wide habit, not only for Mill street but all streets.

Women Witnesses on Senate Floor

Miss Ruth Patterson, of New York (left) and Evelina Southworth, of New Orleans, both silk experts, were the first women, other than members of Congress, to be admitted on the floor of the Senate while it was in session. Despite one of the oldest traditions of Congress, Vice-President Curtis ruled that the two women be allowed into the sacred chamber.

OPEN FORUM IS HELPFUL TO TRAVEL CLUB WOMEN

Program of Merit Conducted By Mrs. Franklin K. Wills

SEVERAL PARTICIPATE

Instructive and provocative of much thought was the program presented at the meeting of the Bristol Travel Club yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Franklin K. Wills.

The one in charge of the open forum participated in by many, and enjoyed by all, had outlined numbers that were varied, and arranged questions that will without doubt redound to the good of the club and those affiliated with it.

Commencing the session of her "school," Mrs. Wills asked the group to rise and sing "America." Mrs. Margaret D. Weagley presided at the piano, with Mrs. Charles L. Bowen leading in the musical number.

The "A-B-C's" were in the forms of maxims, the 26 given by various members of the club, starting with the different letters.

A paper on "Club Ethics" which was written some time ago by Mrs. Nellie N. Eams, of the Yardley Civic Club, was read by Mrs. Richard T. Myers.

"The Test of Usefulness," by Mrs. John Sherman, ex-president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, was read by Mrs. Emil Metzger. Both of these papers helped to answer questions relative to good club members and club work, which problems were uppermost in the minds of the women present.

A brief talk was given by Mrs. Henry E. Ancker upon a vital problem, "The Purposes of Clubs."

Mrs. Wills then conducted a question box with the ones here named, answering the following questions: "What Constitutes a Good Club Member?" Mrs. Serrill Douglass, whose answer was summed up in the words "Loyalty, Courtesy, Tolerance, Ability, Dependability," "Why Not a Circulating Library As a Means of Remuneration as Well as An Asset to Our Club?" Mrs. L. C. Wetling; "How Can the Old and New Club Members Become Acquainted?" Mrs. Griffith L. Williams, Mrs. Parke Wetherill and Mrs. Walter Fitzgonka. Splendid and helpful suggestions were given on this last problem of the club women.

Others answering specific questions were: Mrs. David O. Taylor; "Should We Have Rotation in Office?" Mrs. George E. Boswell; "Is Our Present Method of Admitting Members A Fair One, and Shall We Change It?" Mrs. Caroline T. Smith.

Prior to the program the business meeting took place, with Mrs. Frank Lehman, president, presiding. A food sale followed the meeting.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY TO HONOR ATHLETES

Will Tender Them Banquet In St. Ann's Auditorium Tomorrow Afternoon

TO BE BIG AFFAIR

Members of St. Ann's Holy Name Society will give their fourth annual testimonial dinner to the athletes of the organization tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The scene of the dinner will be St. Ann's school auditorium.

The menu will include: Soup, spaghetti, meat balls, roast beef, gravy, roast sweet potatoes, peas, lettuce, coffee, ice cream and fruit.

Several interesting speakers will be heard and the committee in charge is making an effort to obtain "Jimmie" Dykes or some other star athlete to give a short talk.

Included in the program will be three acts of vaudeville and music provided by Della's Serenaders.

Reports from the ticket committee indicate that they have been selling quite fast and as in the three previous affairs of this nature it will not be a surprise if the auditorium is packed on the scheduled date.

The affair is the members' appreciation to the athletes for the wonderful efforts they produced to make athletics a success in St. Ann's Holy Name Society as well as put the organization on the sporting map.

The committee in charge of the affair is composed of: Nicholas Gilardi, James Tunis, John Field, James Petrina and John Rich.

Invitations have been extended to eighty athletes who skilled in either football or baseball for the St. Ann's Club during the past year.

Senator Clarence J. Buckman, of Langhorne, and Judge Albano, of New York, will be present.

Anyone wishing a seat reserved for the gala occasion are requested to get in touch with any member of St. Ann's at once.

After the banquet dancing will be held under the auspices of the organization and this also will attract many. Della's Serenaders will also furnish music for this event.

Charge Army Employs Sex Appeal Methods

Representative Ross A. Collins (D) of Mississippi, has charged the Army with using "sex appeal methods" to spread a militaristic spirit through the colleges and universities of the country. He plans to open a fight on the practice of naming girls honorary members of the reserve units at various colleges and the continued employment of hostesses in army camps.

DOUBT TOWN'S RIGHT TO ADOPT ORDINANCE

Perkasie "Blue Law" Called Duplication of State Legislation

WILL BE UP TO COURT

PERKASIE, Jan. 11.—Doubt that the vigorously opposed ordinance outlawing commercialized Sunday amusements, believed to be principally directed at Menlo Park, will ever become a law is strong here.

Confidence is felt by the opponents that Burgess Carey Groff will veto the ordinance if it is finally adopted. In that event, the anti-s, says, there is reason to believe the friends of the ordinance would not be able to muster six votes in Council to pass it over the veto.

Legal opinion has been given that the ordinance merely duplicates the present "Blue Laws" of the State.

"There is a question whether the borough has the right to legislate on the same subject upon which the State has already acted," an attorney said this morning. "That question, the legality of the ordinance, will have to be passed upon by the Court if the ordinance is finally adopted."

"The only possible advantage of it," he continued, "is to permit the provision of more harsh punishments for the offenses covered by the State law."

Feeling runs high on the subject. Opponents of the ordinance contend it is a purely religious issue, and one prominent man said it was merely to "show the self-righteousness of some people."

Denominational lines are sharply drawn. Members of the Mennonite and Evangelical churches are behind the movement, it is said, while other denominations do not favor it or observe a non-combatant attitude.

It is reported that the owner of Menlo Park has an offer for the sale of the property to Philadelphia Negroes.

Referring to this Mrs. Henry Weiss made an impassioned plea to Council.

"I'm a Southern woman. I came up North to get away from negroes and I don't want to see them swarming about Perkasie. As a woman, a mother, I plead with you not to close this park."

RUNAWAY BOYS CAUGHT HERE BY QUICK POLICE WORK

First Arrest in State as Direct Result of Broadcasting System

RETURNED TO HOMES

Chief Jones Got Message and In Less Than Hour Had the Lads

The first direct arrest as the result of broadcasting messages and descriptions over the state wide chain of telephone typewriters was made here yesterday afternoon.

Two boys, 14 and 15 years of age, were taken into custody by Chief of Police Linford C. Jones, who recognized the lads as tallying with descriptions received over the telephone typewriter, 55 minutes before he came upon the youngsters.

The lads arrested are John Lear, 14, and Richard Lear, 15. Both are residents of New Hope, Bucks County. Richard Lear is an orphan and was accompanying John on a tour of adventure. The boys left New Hope only a few hours before their capture. Last night the parents of John came to Bristol for their son and took both boys home.

Yesterday morning John and Richard left New Hope, both boys riding on an old bicycle. They carried a school bag with a suit of clothing for each. John left a note for his mother which informed her that he had run away and would not return.

The State Police at Morrisville were notified and at once had the following message sent broadcast over the system:

"Look out for and arrest as soon as away since this morning, from New Hope, Bucks County, Pa., John Lear, 14 years old, Brown overcoat, long black trousers, high brown lined storm shoes, red hair, freckled face, carrying school bag on his shoulder and riding an old bicycle painted black with rusty handle bars."

"This boy has a thin face. He left a note for his mother stating he was not coming home."

The message was received on the telephone typewriter in the Municipal Building at 12:05 p. m.

At one o'clock or just 55 minutes later Chief Jones while patrolling came upon the boys at Pond and Lafayette streets. They were placed under arrest and their parents informed.

HIGH PROMISE

In all societies man feeds more upon abstractions than he does upon facts. He is doubtless the most content who finds his kingdom in his mind. Such was the teaching of the days when the right to the pursuit of happiness was written into the Declaration of Independence, and the doctrine has not yet gone out of vogue. Yet the tangible and negotiable are what appeal to most people in this age of utilitarian comforts. Some, however, can happily blend the theoretical and practical factors in the securing of happiness.

The right to happiness can well be viewed through the bestowments which have come through an era of prosperity and progress. The ratio of happiness may not be higher than when the dictum of the Declaration of Independence was written, but it is certainly no lower.

Despite spectacular crime and pillage, there never was a day of worthier enterprise with higher awards than exists today in the United States for young men who are willing to do one thing—buckle their best intelligence to honest work.

The year 1930 will furnish as much human happiness as any year before it and it may be that it will witness a bumper crop. Part of each individual's share of that happiness should be found in honest, productive effort. A new year is an opportunity for new achievements.

GETTING NEW BUSINESS

The progressive business firm finds that it needs to be constantly making new friends and creating a new circle of customers. If it just depends on satisfying those who have previously bought its goods, it is likely to see its trade diminished. Population changes more rapidly now than formerly, and if a firm has a certain list of customers this year, it can expect, as the result of all the changes that naturally occur, that a considerable proportion of those customers will not be on the list in a year or two.

Also people are changeable in their habits, and unless a very energetic effort is made to hold old customers by advertising, a lot of them will go elsewhere, attracted by the various inducements that are offered them.

People are not much inclined, as they were often formerly, just to trade at one place or a few places along year after year. They are quick to get the idea, if some firm seems to be hustling a little harder than its competitors to please the people, and no feeling of habit or sentiment of loyalty is apt to hold them, if they think they can do better by going elsewhere for something they want.

By an active campaign of advertising, a firm can keep making new business friends, to make up for those who drift elsewhere. It does not take elaborate persuasion to win such new customers in these times.

About 100 years ago today all of us were posterity.

The hand that wields the lipstick seldom wields the broomstick.

Never turn up your nose at people. Remember the law of gravity.

The reason so many don't get ahead of the game is they don't play.

The Straight Thinker

He said this: "Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; it is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is an encouragement to industry and enterprise. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."

Many people who have thrift accounts with us, are acting on this very principle.

Many who wanted homes, got them by the industry and enterprise that Lincoln speaks of. Got them, also, because our plan of home ownership was practical and convenient.

Love eternal in youthful hearts — a great picture made immortal by the artistry of Janet Gaynor.
To plight their troth according to the custom of their people they watched the flame that held their fate . . . through the night each flicker threatened their happiness with extinction . . . each ray of brightness rekindled all their hopes. Never a more dramatic situation! Never a more poignant scene!

At Bridgewater

taking a short cut to the P. R. R., where he was employed.

Written also along the margin of the same paper was this:

"All information about John Schmit at 2543 North 2nd street, Philadelphia."

Schmit, it is thought ended his own life, as lying beside the body was a bottle with a little whiskey left in it and also a four ounce bottle partly filled with a well known disinfectant. It is presumed that he drank that portion of the disinfectant which was gone.

Deputy Coroner W. Furman Young was notified and went and viewed the body after which it was removed to the morgue of the H. S. Rue Estate here. The Bristol police at once notified the Philadelphia police to check up the name and address found upon the newspaper.

The newspaper was dated January

6th and the condition of the body indicated that the man had been dead about four days.
